UAW Tackles Ford On Profit Sharing

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers union took their demands for enriched labor contracts — including profit sharing — to Ford Motor Co. today as the opening round of negotiations moved to the nation's No. 2 automaker.

UAW President Walter Reuther launched 1967 bargaining Monday by telling General Motors, the industry leader, that the union wants a slice of the profit pie every year from now on.

Describing the demand as "equity sharing," Reuther said workers should get a bonus based on profits at the end of the fiscal year just as company executives get bonuses to supplement their basic salaries and stockholders get extra dividends.

Like Executives
"What we're proposing," Reuther said, "is that workers be given the same consideration — no more, no less — than executives and stockholders."

Louis Seaton, GM vice president for personnel, declined to take a position on the profit-sharing proposal or any other UAW demand.

But he told newsmen that 20 years ago the union was firmly opposed to any profit sharing plan.

In asking the auto industry to share its profits with workers, Reuther was making an old request in new trimmings by calling it "equity sharing." But there had been very little emphasis placed on the idea this year prior to Monday's opening talks.

American Motors
The UAW has had a profit sharing — dubbed "progress sharing" — agreement with American Motors since 1961, but since the company has been operating in the red for the past two years, there have been no profits to share.

But the automotive Big Three GM, Ford and Chrysler, thus far have been adamant in their opposition to the concept.

A Labor Department study shows, however, that the number of workers covered by profit sharing plans has more than doubled in the past decade to well over two million.

The survey also revealed that profit sharing was much more

In the opening GM session, Reuther outlined the union's proposals in general philosophical terms. He spoke for more than three hours, then left the spelling out of some specific demands to UAW vice president Leonard Woodcock at an afternoon session.

Meanwhile, a secret poll of UAW members reportedly indicated that higher wages ranked No. 1 in their priority list of demands, with retirement improvements second and a guaranteed annual income a poor third.

Concession

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. agreed Monday to open negotiations a month ahead of schedule on its contracts with United Auto Workers Union members in Canada.

This concession to the UAW was viewed in some quarters as an indication of GM willingness to go along with the UAW's desire to have the same termination date on U.S. and Canadian pacts.

As they opened negotiations, both the UAW and GM attempted to cool off speculation about the possibility of a strike in the industry this year.

Both Reuther and Seaton told newsmen that they were ready to bargain in good faith and are hopeful that there will be no crippling walkouts after contract expire Sept. 6.

"Most Ambitious"
But both sides have said privately that several strike issues are in the union's package of demands which Reuther has described as the "longest and most ambitious" list ever presented.

They include a substantial wage increase, a guaranteed annual income, wage parity for Canadian workers and a limit on subcontracting, which the UAW says takes jobs away from its members.

Car Crash Kills Naubinway Man

NAUBINWAY (AP) — A 70-year-old Naubinway resident was killed Monday night in the crash of two cars on U.S. 2 just east of this Mackinac County community.

State Police said the victim, Leo Donohue, may have suffered a heart attack before the smashup.

The driver of the other car, Lawrence Morgan, 50, of Menominee, suffered slight injuries.

Detroit Faces Perjury Charges

DETROIT (AP) — Eugene Ayotte of Detroit, who had charges against him of conspiring to bribe two Detroit policemen dropped last week, today faced trial on perjury charges.

Ayotte, 39, was bound over for trial on four counts of perjury Monday by Recorder's Court Judge Gerald W. Groat. Ayotte was accused of lying to Circuit Judge George Bowles, the grand juror, when he denied telling an auto salesman, accused of selling a car illegally, that he could have the case fixed.

Congress Is Gunshy About Role In Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration rejected rebellion-torn Nigeria's request for military aid just as edgy congressional leaders began fuming that such help, coupled with earlier dispatch of U.S. planes to the Congo, could invite Communist meddling in Africa.

A congressional uproar Monday greeted Sunday's announcement that three transport planes and 150 men had been sent to the Congo, torn by a mercenary-led rebellion.

Hours later, just as Capitol Hill began sounding off against a hint that such aid might go to Nigeria, too, the State Department turned down Nigeria's request, saying its rebellion was purely internal.

Fear Involvement
In almost the same breath that some congressmen expressed fears of a Vietnam-type involvement in Africa, they discounted the optimistic report from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that the military war is going well in Vietnam.

Some said they expect McNamara's visit to result in dispatch of more troops to Asia and a tax increase to pay for them.

With both Vietnam doves and hawks criticizing the Congo action, the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees summoned Secretary of State Dean Rusk for a private explanation of the administration's position.

Challenges Obligation
Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee challenged a State Department spokesman's contention that the United States is obligated to uphold the "territorial integrity and unity" of Nigeria and the Congo.

"This business of guaranteeing the territorial integrity of nations all around the world is being carried too far," Fulbright said. "What treaties do we have that call for our intervention in the domestic affairs of other countries? So far as I know, there are none that apply in Africa."

A portion of Nigeria has proclaimed itself the independent nation of Biafra.

Israel, Egypt Agree To UN Canal Watch

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel agreed today to the posting of U.N. observers along the Suez Canal cease-fire line amid new demonstrations of Soviet support for the Arab cause.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry announcement said its agreement was "conditional on the establishment of observation posts on both sides of the cease-fire line on a mutual basis."

Egypt informed U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Monday that it accepted the Security Council resolution calling for the stationing of U.N. military observers along the canal in an effort to prevent truce violations.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik returned to Cairo for the second time in less than three weeks in the wake of a visiting Soviet naval task force commander's promise to help the Egyptians "repel any aggression."

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said Malik would have "important talks" with Egyptian officials today and Wednesday, then visit other Arab capitals.

Malik In Cairo
Malik visited Cairo with Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny June 23 after the Arab-Israeli war.

Many Egyptians interpreted the promise of help from Adm. Igor Molochov as a major change in the Soviet Union's cautious Middle East policy. Considerable significance also was attached to the arrival Monday of the Soviet warships — eight of them at Port Said, at the northern end of the Suez Canal, close to the area where Israeli and Egyptian jets and artillery fought Saturday.

Urge Moderation

There has been no sign in Moscow, however, of any change in the Soviet Union's policy of confining its aid to the Arabs to political moves and replacement of some of the arms they lost in the war with Israel. Kremlin leaders have been reported urging the Arabs to adopt a moderate course.

Egypt agreed Monday to the U.N. Security Council's decision to send military observers to the Suez area to try to prevent further breaches of the cease-fire.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban is due in New York tonight to deliver Israel's decision whether it would accept U.N. observers on its side of the truce line.

It was believed Israel would refuse to recognize such observers as a continuation of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization set up by the 1949 general armistice.

Israel replied Monday night to a U.N. General Assembly demand that it rescind its annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem, wrested from Jordan in the June 5 war.

Arabs Confer In Cairo
Although the reply was not made public immediately, the Israeli government has said repeatedly that unity of the formerly divided city "is irrevocable," and Muslim members of the United Nations were expected to submit a new resolution to the General Assembly's emergency session on the Middle East demanding again that the annexation be annulled.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Algerian President Houari Boumedienne and King Hussein of Jordan conferred for 2½ hours in Cairo Monday after Nasser and Hussein met alone.

The government-controlled Cairo radio said the three leaders would "rally Arab forces against Western imperialist collusion with Israel."

The broadcast added that their main objective is "to erase the consequences of aggression until every inch of Arab land now in Israeli hands is liberated."

Murder Charged To Inkster Man In Child Dispute

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 24-year-old Inkster man was in the Washtenaw County jail today, awaiting examination on first-degree murder charges in the slaying of an Ypsilanti woman.

Milton Oliver stood mute Monday when arraigned before Ypsilanti Municipal Judge Edward Deake. Examination was set for July 20.

Police say Oliver shot Marie Poole, 24, after she refused to allow him to take possession of her 8-week-old child.

She died Sunday evening in University Medical Center in Ann Arbor from a bullet wound in the head.

Yank Paratroop Force Loses 26 Men In Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Almost 1,000 North Vietnamese regulars partly overran a South Vietnamese base camp today then were hurled back into the jungle with losses of at least 116 killed and many more reported wounded and dragged away.

Striking before dawn, two North Vietnamese battalions rushed toward the barbed wire and sandbagged bunkers and cut through one corner of the defense perimeter.

For more than an hour the fighting was savage. One South Vietnamese soldier had his wife and two children in his bunker; the wife was killed by a charging Red soldier who was then killed by the South Vietnamese trooper.

A few hours earlier an American paratroop force stumbled into a fortified ambush in the central highlands and suffered 26 dead and 49 wounded. The Americans reported only six of the enemy killed.

Congo Capital Target Of U.S. Mercy Mission

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport plane left Kinshasa today in an attempt to rescue white hostages held by mutinous mercenaries in Kisanangani, Belgian radio reported.

The radio correspondent in Kinshasa, the Congolese capital, reported the C130 left at 9 a.m. on a two-hour flight to Kisanangani.

Earlier the Belgian Foreign Ministry announced the rescue

Effort Fails

Brussels, Belgium (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport plane failed today in an attempt to rescue white hostages held by mutinous mercenaries in Kisanangani in the northeast Congo, the Congolese radio reported.

The broadcast did not say why the mission failed, but presumably the mercenaries refused to allow the plane to land.

operation had not taken place. Reliable sources here said its mission had been judged useless.

The plane's first task was to make radio contact with the control tower at Kisanangani airport and ask for permission to land. Failing this it was to circle the field at a low altitude looking for a signal to land.

Congolese authorities appealed to mercenaries over the radio Monday to allow the landing. They told them to place a truck covered with a white sheet at the end of the runway in case of acceptance. A black sheet would mean no landing was permitted.

If mercenaries were to prevent the rescue mission, Congolese troops had orders to attack the airport. The Congolese claimed the mercenaries held only the airport and hospital.

The hostages were reported held at the Kisanangani airport by white foreign mercenaries who mutinied against the Congolese government last week and seized the airport.

Congolese President Joseph D. Mobutu announced Monday night that the U.S. plane would fly low over the Kisanangani airport this morning and look for a sign it could land to remove the white hostages.

Threatens Attack
Mobutu vowed to launch an attack on the mercenaries in Kisanangani, formerly Stanleyville, if they refused to let the U.S. transport land and pick up the hostages. He said they included women and children, university professors and perhaps 20 journalists.

McNamara Will Limit New Men Sent To War

SAIGON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will not recommend sending all the additional troops the U.S. Command in Vietnam told him it needs to prosecute the war fully, a high American source said today.

McNamara, on his ninth trip to Vietnam, also reportedly ordered Gen. William C. Westmoreland's command to cut away the fat from the 466,000-man American military force and step up the effectiveness of the U.S. fighting machine.

With 80 American maneuver battalions, the U.S. Command normally has only about 40,000 to 50,000 combat troops available for operations.

Urges Integration
The secretary was reliably reported to have pressed for limited integration of Vietnamese troops into American units to get the Saigon army to handle a bigger share of the fighting, now done mostly by American battalions.

However, some additional troops are expected to be sent following the secretary's report to President Johnson. Westmoreland was reported to have asked for 100,000 to 140,000 men to prosecute the war at an optimum speed. He also submitted studies of what Washington could expect with various smaller amounts of troops.

Before he left this afternoon for the United States, McNamara told newsmen of Washington's troop policy since mid-1965. "It was then, it is now and I expect it will be in the future to provide the troops our commanders think necessary."

Increase Effectiveness

However, he qualified this, saying: "What is necessary depends on the extent to which we are using the resources we have available to us." He noted the allies have over one million men under arms and said: "There are many ways open to increase the effectiveness of those men if we set our minds and hearts to it."

He added that in the rapid buildup to date, U.S. commanders had overlooked means of getting the most use of their forces.

No Air Snafu
The Vietnamese generals were reported to have recommended boosting U.S. troop strength to 600,000 and escalating the air war against North Vietnam with the possibility of an invasion to take the pressure off the area below the demilitarized zone.

McNamara told his news conference he could not comment for security reasons on any possible plans to increase the air war, but he said it would not be diminished. He said the bombing campaign has been effective in making North Vietnam pay dearly for its dispatch of men and supplies to support the insurgency in South Vietnam.

Service Award Dinner Honors

Customer's Needs Made Mead Production Target

Eight employees of the Escanaba Division were presented with Mead Corp. 25 year service pins by William W. Wommack, group vice president—paperboard and related products at the House of Ludington Sunday night. Honored were Edward Boissineau, Raymond Bryson, Thomas F. Elgeert, Ralph LaCasse, Luke LaPlant, Raymond R. McDonough, Carl Sebeck and Leonard Smith.

Ninety-six retired and active employees with long company service were guests at the recognition dinner. Joseph Kroll was toastmaster, Fred Fisher gave the invocation, and Raymond R. McDonough responded for the eight honorees. George S. Douglas, division manager, welcomed the group and thanked them for their loyal service.

William Wommack, the speaker, congratulated the group on their service records, and said, "After 25 years with Mead, you ought to be experts on the subject of change. You people here at Escanaba are highly regarded throughout The Mead Corp. for your ability as papermakers. As better ways to make paper were found, you changed your ways of doing things, to take advantage of them." He pointed out that in the past 25 years, because of marketing changes, the division moved from a newspaper mill into ground-wood specialties and then into production of machine coated papers.

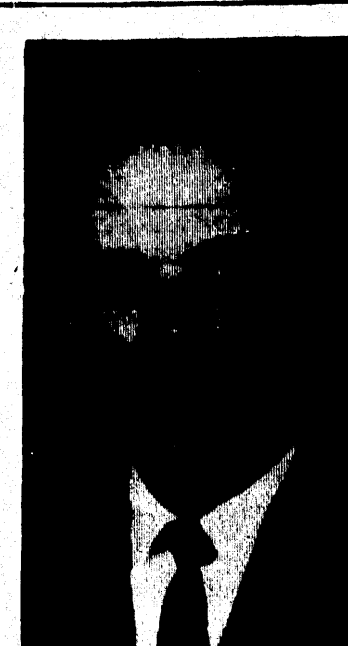

With Mead's increased efforts to improve its marketing effectiveness, said Wommack, "We have started looking at our customer's needs — today, tomorrow, and ten years out front, not only in the paperboard and related products area, but in the white papers division and throughout the company; and we've set out to add the facilities and the people and the ideas to meet those needs better than anyone else."

In the board and related products area, Wommack told the group that the following things have been done to improve the corporation's marketing effectiveness: erected a new linerboard mill at Mahrt, Ala., designed for 800 tons a day production; built a new Mead Container's plant in Edison, N. J., whose corrugator machine is one of the largest in the industry, plus introducing a new Flexo line of continuous operation by which corrugated board is printed, cut, scored, folded and glued into boxes ready for shipping; expanded the plant in Miami, which makes one of Mead Container's fastest growing lines called Polor-Corr, a specially coated water resistant box which Mead developed for shipping iced poultry; and a new Mead Container's plant in Washington Court House, Ohio, which started up June 1.

Wommack stressed to the group the need to be aware of our customer's needs, which will mean change as time passes and stated, "And that's where you come in — using your equipment and ideas in Escanaba to meet your customer's needs better than anyone else can." He said "the minute you use the word 'better,' you are sure to be talking about change in the next breath, changes in existing jobs, methods, training, and the works."

"I don't want to give the idea that the changes we've seen or will see in the white paper area, board, or any other part of the corporation only come about in order to let us make better or cheaper products," said Wommack. "What our customers want has a great deal to do with it, too. As a company and as employees of the company, we have to anticipate changes and we have to be ready to adapt to the changes that shifting customer demands or technological progress make necessary," he said.

Court Stalls Plan To Scrap Trains

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Controversial Chesapeake & Ohio Railway passenger trains 14 and 15 continued their daily round trip service between Grand Rapids and Detroit today.

Ingham County Circuit Judge Marvin J. Salmon denied a motion by the railway that the trains be discontinued. He also dismissed three motions by the Michigan attorney general's office at a hearing Friday asking summary judgments to keep the trains rolling.

Thomas Shearer, a member of the Grand Rapids city attorney's staff, said the stalemate means the trains will run at least until an appeal is carried to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Anderson Appointed

Kee Submits Resignation To Gladstone Commission

GLADSTONE — The City Commission accepted with regret the resignation of Commissioner Gene Kee and appointed Arne Anderson, 205 N. Court St., to the vacancy at the regular meeting Monday night at the City Hall.

In a letter to City Manager H. J. Henrikson, Kee said he was acting on the advice of his physician. He has served on the commission for two years.

Anderson, who is a member of the Housing Commission, will be required to resign from the Housing body before accepting the appointment. He is employed by Mead Corp.

The bid of the Gamble store of Gladstone for a mower for the city power plant in the amount of $641, less $95 for trade-in, was accepted. It was the only bid received.

Engineers Report

Kenneth Anderson of Williams & Works, Engineers told the commission that the L.W. Brumm Construction Co. of Marquette submitted the only bid for improvements to the Industrial Park. After opening the bid, engineers considered rejecting it since it was $12,000 higher than their estimated cost, Anderson said, but after careful consideration it was agreed to delete blacktopping of all streets in the park, construction of side walks and topsoil for lawns, bringing the bid down to $10,800 and within range of the estimates.

Since additional water mains will be needed, the city will be asked to add another $10,000 to the cost, bringing the total to about $168,000. Anderson explained that blacktopping and other work could be done at a later date by smaller contractors at a lower cost as they are not bound by higher wage scales demanded by government loan projects.

Anderson said all underground work — water and sewer installations — would be completed and curbing and base prepared under the Brumm contract.

Work To Proceed

The commission voted unanimously to accept William & Works' recommendation and proceed with the work.

Henrikson read a letter from UPCAP regarding public housing problems in the Upper Peninsula and the commission authorized him to attend a meeting on housing at Northern Michigan University at 7:30 p.m. July 20.

In other business, the commission approved the application of a loan for preliminary planning of low-cost public housing in Gladstone. Funds will be obtained at low cost to the city by the Housing Commission from the federal government. Money will be deposited in a local bank until building codes are adopted.

Henrikson said copies of the codes are being prepared and a resolution for adoption will be considered at the next meeting July 24.

The request of Mrs. Robert Anderson to withdraw $2,000 hospital benefits deposited by her late husband was approved.

Plans Prepared

The city manager told the commission that blacktopping equipment would be in the city either late this week or next week to begin work on city streets. Lloyd Sodergren Contractors requested that blacktop be laid before they install curbs on Delta Ave. The commission approved the request with the stipulation that any damage done to the blacktop by the contractor be repaired at the contractor's expense.

Henrikson reported that Northern Michigan Engineers, Inc., Escanaba, has assured him that final plans for the 17th St. sewers would be ready for the next meeting.

The Commission voted to purchase a walkie-talkie for use by patrolmen to keep them in communication with the station and patrol cars. Bids will be advertised and opened at the next meeting.

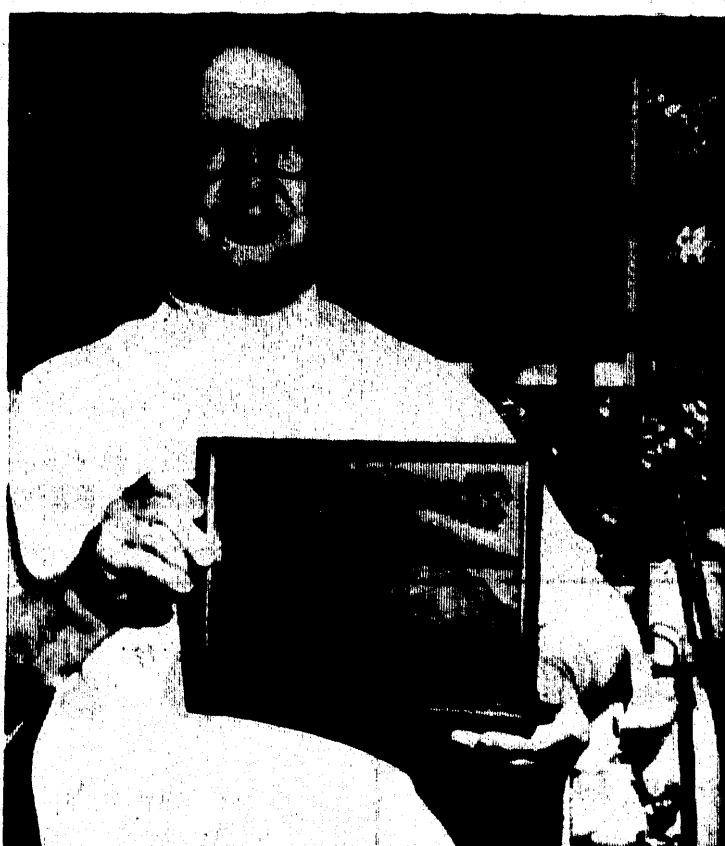

Horse Show To Try For Record

Horse show fans and horse hobbyists generally are reminded that the Silver Spur Saddle Club will present its eighth annual show Sunday, July 30, at the Werner Palmquist land known as "Hi Country" on the Gladstone Bluff.

The Silver Spur Saddle Club is the pioneer riding club in the U.P. and has sponsored more shows than any other U.P. club.

Horse shows being held throughout the Upper Peninsula are becoming bigger and more popular. This year's show in Houghton County drew 168 entries. The local show's sponsors hope to top this figure and report that the best horses and top riders from the western U.P. and Northern Wisconsin will compete.

The show will start promptly at 10 a.m. and will continue throughout the day. Lunch will be available on the grounds.

DR. EDWARD M. HIRN, D.D.S., 1019 Ludington St., has been honored by Northwestern University Alumni Association with award of golden reunion certificate. The Escanaba dentist, 50 years out of Northwestern's dental school, was honored for "loyally sustaining those high standards of culture and service which Northwestern seeks to foster in all her sons and daughters" during 50 years of dental practice. Starting his second 50, Dr. Hirn said "I'm busier than ever and asking the Lord only for strength for many more years of service." (Daily Press Photo)

Young Dairyman Is Tour's Star

Young dairyman Bill Edwards of Engadine will be one of the afternoon hosts for the Upper Peninsula Farm Management Tour July 22.

Edwards has made impressive improvements in his herd's production — from less than 7,000 pounds average in 1955 to 12,500 pounds in 1965. He has also improved the fertility of his land, and recently bought 200 acres to add to his original 120.

In 1962, the stanchion barn was remodeled around plans devised by Edwards, Mackinac County Extension Agent Bill Muller and Dairy Specialist Jack Little of Chatham. Stanchion capacity was raised from 15 to 40. A new concrete floor was poured and the barn raised to provide needed head room. Glass windows were replaced with translucent fiberglass panels. A 20-by-50-foot silo was added in 1965.

Edwards has 37 cows in his milking herd, and 75 altogether. He is feeding a dozen steers, trying to make the best use of excess hay production.

The young dairyman credits his progress in raising milk production to careful selection in artificial breeding and an improved feeding program. Alternative morning stops on

Chatham Gets First Turkeys

Chatham Experiment Station of Michigan State University will receive its first shipment of turkeys — 1,400 of them — Wednesday from the MSU Poultry Department farms at East Lansing.

Director Jack Little of the station said that Dr. Howard Zindel, head of the MSU Poultry Department, and Dr. John Wolford would be at Chatham Wednesday to start the new phase of its poultry experimentation.

It follows years of study of poultry housing at Chatham which wrote a new book on environmental influence on chicken growth and egg production.

In the new turkey research the poultrymen will be seeking a northern source of turkey eggs for southern hatching for a period when there is no satisfactory production of turkey eggs in the South. The experiment seeks to fill a cyclical gap in turkey production, somewhat like the Copper Country's supply of strawberries to the big city markets after their normal sources of supply to the south stop producing.

Victor Johnson Dies Monday At Home

Victor Johnson, 81, of 202 N. Port St., Gladstone died at 11:25 last evening at the family home. Born Oct. 22, 1885 in Finland, he was a retired farmer. Mr. Johnson was a member of the Grace Baptist Church.

He is survived by his widow, Anna, two sons, Arne and Jack of Gladstone; one sister, in Finland and nine grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home in Gladstone from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and the body will be removed to the Grace Baptist Church at 1 p.m. Thursday. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday with Rev. Gerold Brady officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery, Escanaba.

Mental Health Center To Move

The Delta County Community Mental Health Board, at a recent session, moved to contract for office space in the new Medical Building located at Doctor's Park, S. 23rd St. in Escanaba.

Announcement was made today by Dr. George D. Maniaci, chairman of the board, who indicated that office space contracted for would house a psychiatrist, a psychologist, two psychiatric social workers, an administrative department, and a reception and waiting area.

The present Community Mental Health Clinic is located at 1229 Sheridan Road and will continue to operate from that location with its present staff of one full-time psychiatric social worker, a psychiatrist-psychologist team on a one day per week basis, and a business administrator.

Dr. Maniaci said he is hopeful the Community Mental Health Clinic would be able to move to its new location in Doctor's Park sometime in the late fall of this year.

Pasty Winner In Michigan Week Product Contest

Michigan Week's Region II agricultural development of the year has been awarded to the entry submitted by Marquette County. It is the Cornish pasty as developed by Madeline's Grill and Pasties, located in Green Wood, three miles west of Ishpeming on U.S. 41.

Region II is composed of Alger, Delta, Dickinson, Marquette, Menominee, and Schoolcraft counties. The Delta entry was the Rapid River Cheese Producer, and Schoolcraft selected the Farm Market Producers Association.

Selection was made by Leo Alperovitz, Region II awards chairman, Escanaba, who said the pasty will be entered in state competition. The state winner will be determined in August and will be presented at a special ceremony at the Michigan State Fair, Aug. 25-Sept. 4.

C&NW Purchase Plan Sends Stock Up $14 A Share

BULLETIN
The AP reported today from Wall Street: "A 6-point jump by Chicago & North Western spurred the rail average toward another new high."

The Chicago & North Western Railway revised the terms of its proposed acquisition of Essex Wire Corp. to eliminate a potential tax liability for Essex stockholders and the price of the stock shot up 14 points on the New York Exchange Monday.

The revamped proposal calls for outstanding Essex shares to be acquired through insurance of 5 per cent $100 per cumulative convertible prior preferred stock by North Western Industries, Inc., a holding company to be formed by the railroad. Under the original plan of acquisition announced in May Essex stockholders were to receive convertible debentures and cash.

Essex has 7.9 million common shares outstanding and the proposal is for each shareholder to receive $45.83 per value of new preferred for each share of Essex common.

Completion of the merger still is contingent upon financial and accounting studies and acceptance by holders of at least 80 per cent of the outstanding shares of each company. Ben W. Heineman, North Western chairman, and Walter F. Probst, Essex chairman, said consummation of the transaction is expected before the end of the year.

A producer of electric wire,

Essex in 1966 had a net income of $24.4 million, or $3.06 a share on sales of $375.3 million. The North Western, which diversified into chemicals two years ago with the acquisition of two companies, Velsicol Chemical Corp. and Michigan

Coming

Ben W. Heineman, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago & North Western Railway, and Larry S. Probst, newly elected president of the road, will be in Escanaba next Monday to address a luncheon meeting of business and civic leaders.

Heineman will make an announcement of North Western plans for Escanaba. The railroad is the oldest business of the community and the North Western was honored by Escanaba in its Ore Centennial celebration of 1964.

Heineman's invitation said his announcement would be of "great economic significance to the State of Michigan and the Upper Peninsula in particular; to the steel mills who look to this area for iron ore; and to the ore carriers who make Escanaba a part of call."

Chemical Corp., earned $26 million in 1966 or $16.85 a share, on railroad revenue of $242.5 million and chemical sales of $73.3 million.

North Western common rose $5.25 a share last Friday and spurred $14 more on Monday to a high of $161.50. Essex Wire rose $4.37 to close at $53.12.

Uranium Search Planned In U.P.

A Sault Ste. Marie man has applied for a lease to explore for uranium on state-owned land in Marquette County.

Kenneth G. Hatfield has asked the Michigan Conservation Commission for a direct exploration and mining lease for ores which are source material for fissionable elements.

The application covers about 98 acres which the state owns in fee in Section 24, R27W, which is about two miles east of Voelker Lake and about eight miles south of Negaunee.

Hatfield has submitted evidence to substantiate his request for a lease, and an examination in the field by a member of the Geological Survey Division of the Michigan Conservation Department indicated sufficient evidence of radioactivity to warrant further investigation.

J. D. Stephansky, Lansing, Chief of the department's land division, has recommended a three-year exploration period for the lease so that further exploration might be conducted to determine if uranium ore is present in quantities that would warrant mining.

Previous uranium exploration efforts in other parts of Marquette County apparently have not uncovered any deposits of this ore in minable quantities.

The commission will act on Hatfield's request at its meeting at Higgins Lake this week.

U.P.'s Folklorists Recording Tradition

Seventy-five writers and would-be writers of the Midwest attending the annual Upper Peninsula Creative Writers Conference at Northern Michigan University, Marquette, in the weekend were told that there is a healthy nucleus of talented writers determined to preserve the history and lore of the Upper Peninsula.

The speaker was Robert E. Gard, University of Wisconsin professor, director of the Wisconsin Idea Theater and founder of the Wisconsin Regional Writers Association.

He said that although one-third of the American countryside is considered culturally deprived, small communities are not culturally dead.

"We must bring the arts to people where they live," he said, "searching out the great talent that is right there, in every small community, making use of it to make our country great."

Wisconsin Accent
This development of community life in relation to the people wherever they live is the heart of the Wisconsin Idea," he said, referring to the state that has drawn nationwide attention by its progress in creative arts development in the last two decades.

A pre-conference program Friday featured an evening of original poetry and translations of contemporary foreign poets by Charles Guenther of St. Louis.

Guenther, a specialist in poetry forms, noted an unusual cooperative spirit between the varied age groups at the conference.

"With young conferees in the 18-year-old group and others past 70," he said, "it was a delight to see how the younger poets seemed able to accommodate the thinking of the older."

E. LaCoursier Taken By Death

Edmund J. (Chip) LaCoursier, 78, of Hermansville died at 1 p.m. Monday at the Anderson Memorial Hospital in Norway. He had been a patient there for two weeks.

He was born Jan. 6, 1889 in Hermansville and had resided there all of his life. Mr. LaCoursier was a former sexton at the Meyer Township Cemetery and a former member of the Meyer Township Road Commission. He was a member of St. Mary's Church.

Mr. LaCoursier was married to the former Lydia Dugre on Dec. 28, 1915 in Hermansville and she died April 17, 1938.

He is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Stanley Piasariki and Mrs. Willard Bonneau of Milwaukee, Mrs. Philip Hupy of Houston, Texas, Mrs. Angelo St. Juliana and Mrs. Kermit LaBonte of Hermansville and Mrs. Napoleon LaBonte of Spalding; one sister, Mrs. Alecia Racotta of Riverdale, Ill.; 28 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Kell-Tondun Chapel in Spalding after 2 p.m. Wednesday and the parish rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Funeral services will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Mary's Church with Rev. Gervase Brewer officiating. Burial will be in the Meyer Township Cemetery.

writers and how obviously delighted the older poets were with the fresh, youthful outlook of the younger conferees."

More Folklorists
Indicating that folklorists and local historians are increasing in number in the north, Copper Country lore and U.P. mining reminiscences highlighted the program Saturday evening, when conferees read their original poetry and prose, exhibiting a distinctive Upper Peninsula flavor in their choice of subject matter, description and dialogue.

The folklorists were encouraged by Dr. Taimi Ranta, of Illinois State University's English Department, recipient of the 1967 Distinguished Alumni Award from Northern Michigan University, who explained her project as one of the first grantees of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

This is the first year for this type of grant, under which Dr. Ranta, a native of Marquette, will spend the summer studying living American-Finnish immigrants in Alger, Keweenaw, Houghton, Marquette, and Iron counties.

Finnish Records
For two months she will tape record Finnish families telling their family histories and stories. Her emphasis will be on old world backgrounds, dialectal backgrounds, and the perpetuation and adaptation of folk literature.

Dr. Ranta asked conferees to

Two Escanaba Youths Injured At Menominee

MENOMINEE — Two Escanaba youths were injured, neither seriously, in a motorcycle accident Monday about 12:30 p.m.

Menominee police said motorcycles driven by Jerome Scheriff, 17, of 1020 9th Ave., S., and Bruce Anderson, 16, of 516 S. 14th St., were traveling side by side when they hit a patch of oil near the Interstate Bridge and overturned, throwing both riders to the pavement.

Both youths were treated at St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital and released. Their motorcycles were considerably damaged, police said.

Hospital

John Oseen, 1712 2nd Ave. N., is a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital in Green Bay. His room is 841. He was transferred from St. Francis Hospital by plane Sunday morning.

Mrs. Kathryn Lux is a surgical patient at St. Francis Hospital. Her room is 365 and she is not allowed visitors.

John Wicklander, 946 Sheridan Road has been dismissed from St. Francis Hospital where he underwent surgery. He is now recuperating at his home.

Mrs. Carl Gebhard, the former Edith Beitzer, is a surgical patient at St. Francis Hospital, Peoria, Ill.

pass along to other American-Finnish writers the information that background on their families can be easily obtained by writing to the church in Finland to which their relatives belonged. She said that outstanding records are kept in the Finnish churches and that complete reports are available for a nominal fee, rated according to the amount of searching required to assemble records from other areas in which subjects lived.

Manuscripts prepared prior to the conference and "on the spot" assignments written in workshop sessions were criticized and analyzed in group sessions or in private consultations by workshop leaders.

Sessions on prose were led by Professor Gard and on poetry by Charles Guenther.

Consultants for other workshops were Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, on feature writing for newspapers, and Martha Desper, instructor at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, on teaching others to write.

Honor Puffery

Recipients of the third annual Upper Peninsula Writers award presented on Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. K. Hart Puffer, South Boardman, Mich. They were recognized for helping to lay the groundwork for formation of the present U.P. Writers organization when they were residents of Stambaugh, where Puffer taught high school. Both are published writers and were instrumental in arranging the first writer's conference in the Upper Peninsula to which both amateur and professional writers and instructors were invited.

During the annual business session, held Saturday, William J. Finlan, Gwinn, was elected president for 1967-68; Mrs. August Pavaglio, Iron Mountain, president-elect; Robert Clarke, Marquette, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Finlan, Gwinn, secretary; Mrs. Irja Harju, L'Anse, treasurer.

Joint sponsors of the conference were the Upper Peninsula Writers Association, Northern Michigan University, and the Michigan Council for the Arts.

they landed in Kisangani in a Sabena Airlines plane flown by Capt. Eddie Koller. Koller arrived in Johannesburg, South Africa, Monday, and said he had been forced by the mercenaries to fly wounded soldiers to Kariba, Rhodesia.

The fighting in Kisangani, Koller added, "was very vicious but the morale of the mercenaries was very high."

The Kisangani airport was reported encircled by Congolese troops, but Mobutu said he had ordered his soldiers to hold their fire because of the hostages.

The rescue plane was one of three C130 transports sent to Mobutu by President Johnson in response to a Congolese plea for military aid from the United States.

Action Criticized

The dispatch of the planes with 150 Americans to the Congo touched off an uproar in the U.S. Congress Monday. Both Vietnam doves and hawks criticized the action.

The Johnson administration turned down a Nigerian request for military aid to help put down a rebellion by that country's southeast sector, which has proclaimed itself an independent state called Biafra. The State Department said Nigeria's rebellion was purely internal while foreign mercenaries were involved in the Congo.

Refugees in Rwanda from the eastern Congo city of Bukavu, the other center of the uprising, disputed the Congolese government's claim that mercenaries parachuted into the area had started the trouble there.

Refugees From Katanga

The refugee white settlers said the mercenaries involved were army officers who had been on the government payroll

City Taxes Jump

Escanaba city taxpayers' new bills show that their taxes have risen 14 per cent over last year. That's a husky increase. If that rate were to be maintained, taxes would double in 7 years.

Some of the increase — about $75,000 worth — goes to better pay and fringe benefits for city workers. For this $75,000 the city gets no increase in service from its employees; they're just being better rewarded. Last year the personal salaries and wages account increased even more — over $100,000 worth — as Escanaba and the nation move into more affluence, more pay, less work, longer vacations, more insurance benefits, etc.

One of the reasons that the city workers were willing to accept the 5 per cent increase in wages embodied in the new budget was because they got considerably more than that last year. The base of their pay and fringes is being built up so that demands are tapering off somewhat.

The increase comes at a time of increasing pinch on income. The state has just enacted a 2.6 per cent personal income tax that becomes effective on Oct. 1, and the federal government is making noises about increasing the federal income tax in order to deal with inflation and to get the money needed to pay for the war in Vietnam and to keep the lid on the national debt.

The tax rate didn't increase in Escanaba. It's still $14.50 where it's been for three years, but the city's assessed valuation has been increased, so that the rate applies on a larger valuation figure and results in larger tax bills.

The Michigan Legislature made the state-equalized valuation on real estate the only legal basis for assessing taxes in Michigan, effective last December. So the city is now using the state equalized valuation, as the county and the schools had been doing for years. Previously the city had used the smaller county equalized valuation.

Forced to use the state equalized valuation, the city could have cut the rate from $14.50 per $1000 to, say $12.50, to get the same income it used to get, but it wanted more income. It needed more, for instance, to pay those increased wages, but it needed much more to pay for the city's program of capital improvement. These are the buildings and other facilities that the community needs.

These are chiefly a water distribution system to the west side, water for the industrial park, airport expansion and development, and a community recreation building. The projects total $911,000 of the city budget of over $4 million. There will be some federal aid on the water facilities.

It is more reasonable for Escanabans to ask: "How do we compare?" than to hope that its city administration can hold the line tightly against operational cost increases that are rising generally. The answer for Escanaba appears to be that it is getting its pay up to a good level of comparison with other communities of this size in this area, but that it still lacks something in some of the fringe areas.

There are minor differences and there always will be. Our police are a little lower paid than those in the Sault and Marquette, but our water workers are paid a little better, our electric workers get less than those in Traverse City, and in public works were near the top of the tree, etc. In short, were in good general line with what other comparable communities are paying their workers.

As Escanabans pay their higher taxes they will have one small comfort. The higher taxes are a credit on both state and federal income taxes and these tax dollars are being invested here at home in an improved community. The big increase seems to be accepted without much bloodletting by the public.

The studios will note that the city cracks up taxes without any notice to the public and just sends them a bill, whereas our new Bay de Noc Community College recently asked the public to approve a 2 mill increase in the college levy and it voted "No" two to one. The city tax increase is 2.5 mills.

The city is not yet up to its statutory limit on tax levy without a referendum and the state has just handed the city the means of levying more taxes without asking the public by making the state's valuation on property the only acceptable valuation for taxing.

The situation is not quite equitable, as between the taxing powers of the various local governments, like the college districts and the home rule municipalities. Actually, the college could build the campus buildings it needs and bill the public for them, as the city does, but it couldn't get the millage to operate them without a referendum and it is trying to build public understanding and support which will enable it to grow, too.

Single Bliss Hissed

By DAVE BURGIN

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — single Capital Hill during working hours is a tight little society where everybody either knows somebody or knows somebody who does know somebody.

So naturally, news travels fast. Author Frank Tarioff, whose book, "A Guide for the Married Man," was a best seller and now is an excellent movie, was being shown certain Hill spots the other day and learned all about the Hill's huge but close-knit clan.

Tarioff was being told by a newspaperman and a congressman what senators and congressmen do after hours, where they go, etc.

"That sounds like great stuff. Maybe I should write a sequel, 'A Guide for the Married Congressman'."

As we were saying, word on the Hill travels fast, because a check of Hill lounges and private clubs produced "one of the worst business evenings I've had in years," as one night-spot manager put it.

President Johnson did not exactly order himself to the wives of his aides when he was quoted in the book, "A Day in the Life of President Johnson," as saying he wished

Peninsula Stone Industry Tops $9 Million Yearly

By JEAN WORTH

Geologically the Upper Peninsula is distinguished by its metallic minerals in the western area—its copper and iron—and by its limestone resources in the eastern U. P.

These huge stone deposits are in Northern Michigan's Riviera along the top of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron in Delta, Scholcraft, and Mackinac counties, and in the southern tip of Chippewa County and its big Drummond Island at the mouth of the St. Mary's River on Huron. Menominee County is also a part of the Riviera, anchoring its southernmost point on the border of Wisconsin, but its shore is low and sandy.

Great Escarpment

It is not until the great arc of Lake Michigan's north shore touches Delta County that the limestones thrust from the lake in a continuation of the great escarpment that forms the backbone of Wisconsin's Door County Peninsula, emerges in Boyer's Bluff on Washington Island and in the heights of Burnt Bluff on the Garden Peninsula in the Upper Peninsula.

Stone production in the Upper Peninsula in this Riviera area in 1965 totaled more than 7,079,000 short tons worth more than $9,400,000.

The Riviera supplied more than 20 per cent of Michigan's stone production and 25 per cent of the state's stone production value. Michigan ranked 6th in the nation in stone production that year. Stone for cement, none of which is produced in the Upper Peninsula, accounts for a big part of the stone production in the Lower Peninsula.

From Ancient Seas

The Riviera rock formations comprise a broad, accurate, east-west belt parallel to the shorelines of Lakes Michigan and Huron, with the rocks in this belt gently inclined towards the geographical center of the Lower Peninsula, says Arthur Slaughter, Michigan Conservation Department geologist in the U. P.

The rock formations are of limestones, dolomites, shales and sandstone in layer-on-layer sequence of sediments deposited in ancient seas which once covered the Michigan region. They are classified as having been laid down in the Ordovician Period (500 to 440 million years ago), the Silurian Period (440 to 400 million years ago), and the Devonian Period (400 to 350 million years ago).

Examples of the periods deposits are the Ordovician rock cliffs on the west side of the Sturgeon Peninsula along Little Bay de Noc; the Silurian limestone deposits of the Garden Peninsula including the towering Burnt Bluff, and the stacks of the Devonian period at St. Ignace.

Cuesta Formation These rocks form the significant landform features of the Riviera area, the most conspicuous of their topographic features being a prominent cuesta ridge formed by Silurian rock formations. This cuesta—a ridge with one face steep and the opposite face sloping—forms a deep escarpment along the west shore of the Garden Peninsula on Big Bay de Noc and can be traced from there to Drummond Island.

At selected locations these rock formations provide remarkable mineral resources ranging from road construction aggregate (crushed rock) to blast furnace flux feed. The value of these productions is near $10 million yearly at present and quarrying could continue at its present rate for many years without exhausting the resources.

At many locations these rocks constitute the aquifers supplying fresh ground waters to wells.

Glacial Deposits Overlying the bedrock surface is a mantle of unconsolidated material composed of clay, silt, sand, gravel, cobbles and boulders. This material, called drift, was deposited in the glacial period, which began about a million years ago and ended just a few thousand years ago. Mineral products from the glacial drift are sand and gravel and ground water.

The rocks and drift of the Riviera gave Mackinac County standing of 35th place among the 83 counties of Michigan in mineral production value in 1965. Menominee County was 43rd, Delta 62nd and Schoolcraft 83rd.

Mackinac Quarries Menominee, with production of more than $1 million in lime (3rd in Michigan), sand and gravel was scene of operations of B&K Sand & Gravel Co., Wallace; Caspian Construction Co., Powers; Wurth Concrete & Aggregates, Inc., Menominee; the Limestone Products Division of C. Reis Coal Co., Menominee, making quicklime and hydrated lime for industrial purposes; and

BOYS CLIMB one of the "stacks" in the St. Ignace area. They're contributions of the Devonian Period of geological time. The Devonian is the most recent of the three periods of geological influence on the Upper Peninsula's Riviera in the Paleozoic era. It started about 320 million years ago, lasted 40 million years; was followed by the Silurian Period (Garden Peninsula) 340 million years ago, and Ordovician Period (Sturgeon Peninsula) 410 million years ago. (Michigan Conservation Department Photo)

The Menominee County Road Commission, Delta County Road Commission, Fox Valley Construction Co., Gunnar F. Holmberg, Marvic & Sons and Michigan State Highway Department were active in production of sand, gravel and stone.

In Mackinac County, Inland Lime & Stone Co., Michigan

Stone Corp., Drummond Island, Inc., Mackinac County Road Commission, Mike Martineau, Inc., produced stone, sand and gravel, the first three in large quarry and stone processing operations.

Delta's production of about 350,000 tons of sand and gravel was used mostly for building and road construction and its limestone was quarried and crushed for concrete aggregate and roadstone.

Mackinac produced about 75,000 tons of sand and gravel.

Part score hands are always harder to discuss than game contracts or slams because there are too many variations possible. East has a doubtful opening bid but if he does open his side will play the hand at one no-trump or two hearts. One no-trump will make two hearts will make or be set depending on how the play goes.

At most tables in the duplicate game everyone passed the East hand. Top score East and West went to a pair that managed to pick up 200 points by setting two clubs two tricks.

South could have saved a trick in several ways but he went wrong a trifle and East and West were ready to take advantage of his errors.

South started with three rounds of spades. East was on lead and played a fourth spade for dummy to ruff. The next trick was the queen, king and ace of hearts and a second heart put East back on lead.

This time East led a trump. West cashed his ace and king and led a third trump to put South back in dummy.

The ace of diamonds became the sixth and last trick for declarer since East won the second diamond and led hearts.

The whole play is worthy of considerable study. South could and should have saved one trick by playing diamonds earlier than he did but when he missed this opportunity East led his trump at exactly the right time to keep South from making any trump trick in his own hand.

Twiggy-Built Clothes Not For Middle-Aged

Dear Ann Landers: The outburst from the New York attorney who complained about the too tight, too short skirts on broad-beamed women prompts my first letter to a newspaper.

He has point, and I would not deny it, but I feel the blame should be placed where it belongs — squarely on the manufacturers of women's clothes. To begin with, the manufacturers operate on the theory that all women are built like (God forbid) Twiggy.

What's-Her-Name. If my 17-year-old daughter was five feet six and weighed 91 pounds, I'd rush her to the hospital.

Any middle-aged woman who has tried to buy clothes lately knows that the dresses are cut for flat-chested, Slim-hipped bean poles. Last week I spent the better part of two days shopping for a simple afternoon shift. Everything I tried on was too short and too tight across the bust. I weigh 115 and am not over endowed. Finally, in desperation, the saleswoman sighed, "As you can see, Madame, bosoms are out this year."

So please, Ann Landers, put the blast on the people who manufacture women's dresses. Ask them to give some consideration to the middle-aged female who wants to look stylish but not Way-Out Kooksville. Thank you—VOICE OF AMERICA

Dear Voice: Here's your letter, and I hope Women's Wear Daily and other publications will take time out from insulting Mrs. Hubert Humphrey (who makes many of her dresses and does a beautiful job of it) to take note of your letter and pass the word.

Dear Ann Landers: I am getting married in a few weeks and I need your advice at once. My grandmother passed away last month so we are having a very small wedding in the pastor's study. Only the immediate family will be present.

My fiancé's aunt has made quite an issue of my refusal to wear a white gown and veil. She says any girl who does not marry in the traditional white is admitting she has not earned the privilege.

I say this is a lot of applesauce. The last girl I saw wearing traditional white was five months pregnant—and looked should wear what I please. I want to keep peace in the family, but I think it is dumb to wear a bridal gown and veil in the pastor's study when only 14 people will be present. Please advise.—JUST PRACTICAL

Dear Just: Wear whatever you wish and don't let anyone put you on the defensive. The notion that a white wedding gown is proof of virginity is absurd.

Dear Ann Landers: My brother who lost his wife 5 years ago married a nice, plain woman who has grown children. We were all happy to see Harry get married because he has been a lonely man.

Yesterday we went to call on Harry and his new wife. I was surprised to see twelve pictures of her grandchildren on the piano—and in cardboard folders! While I am at it I should tell you that she had one of those old Spanish shawls draped over the piano.

Didn't this sort of thing go out with World War I? Should I tell the woman she is out of date? I like her and I want to be her friend. — MEAN WELL

Dear Mean Well: If you want to be her friend, be quiet. It's her home, her piano, her grandchildren and her Spanish shawl. It's also her taste.

Electric Worm Probe Kills Child

MIDDLE RIVER, Md. (AP)

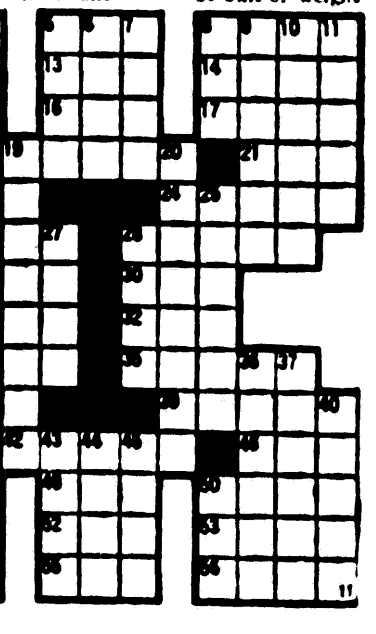

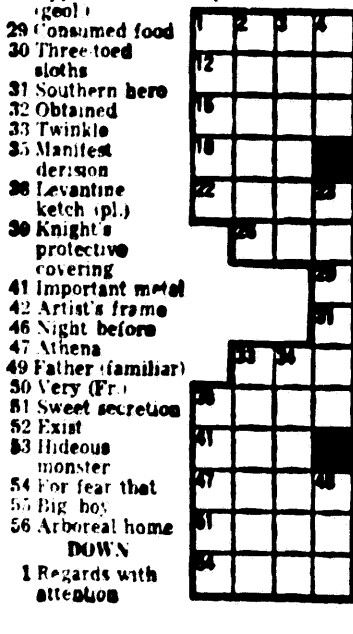

— Douglas Alt was using an electric probe to search for fishing worms Sunday, when his son Douglas, 3, ran across the wet lawn of the family's suburban Baltimore home.

The boy grabbed the 24-inch steel probe and was electrocuted immediately, police said, as his father held the wooden handle of the device.

All-Stars Duel At Anaheim

Alston Chooses Marichal

ANAHEIM (AP) — Dean Chance returns to the land of Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse today as the American League tries to transform itself from one of Snow White's 7 dwarfs back into Jack the Giant Killer.

Chance, the controversial right-hander who was a California Angel when the Angels became neighbors of Disneyland last year, was named by AL

Manager Hank Bauer to start today's All-Star game against the National League.

Currently making a glittering comeback after being traded to Minnesota last winter, the 26-year-old Chance, 11-7, has received the starting honor for the second time in as many All-Star appearances.

In his All-Star debut in 1964, the Ohio farmboy blanked the Nationals on two hits in the first three innings. The NL eventually erupted for a 7-4 triumph.

The loss for the Americans was part of a skid that has seen them plummet from a 12-4 All-Star lead to a 19-17 deficit. The National League has won 15 of the last 21 games, eight of the last 10 and the last four.

Before denting the National's superiority, however, the American League must get past Juan Marichal, San Francisco's brilliant right-hander who was named to start for the NL by Manager Walter Alston.

The winningest pitcher in the majors with a 12-7 record, Marichal is making his second start in six appearances and seeking his third victory against no defeats.

The 29-year-old Dominican has been one of the stingiest hurlers in all-star competition, having allowed just one earned run in 11 innings for an 0.82 earned run average.

That's not the only thing that could hamper the AL's comeback attempt. Bauer's forces have been decimated by injuries, primarily to Detroit's Al Ka-line and Baltimore's Frank Robinson, the two highest vote getters on the 25-man squad.

Kaline fractured his right hand June 27 by slamming his bat into the bat rack after striking out, and Robinson has double vision as the result of a mild concussion he suffered the same day sliding into Chicago's Al Weis at second base.

Tony Oliva of Minnesota replaced Kaline in the line-up while Tony Conigliaro of Boston took Robinson's place. Oliva will play center field, Conigliaro in right with Boston's Carl Yastrzemski in left.

Shortstop Rico Petrocelli of Boston has a bruised wrist, and first baseman Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota re-injured his groin during the weekend, but both were expected to play.

Rounding out the AL team are Rod Carew of Minnesota at second, Brooks Robinson of Baltimore at third and Detroit's Bill Freehan catching.

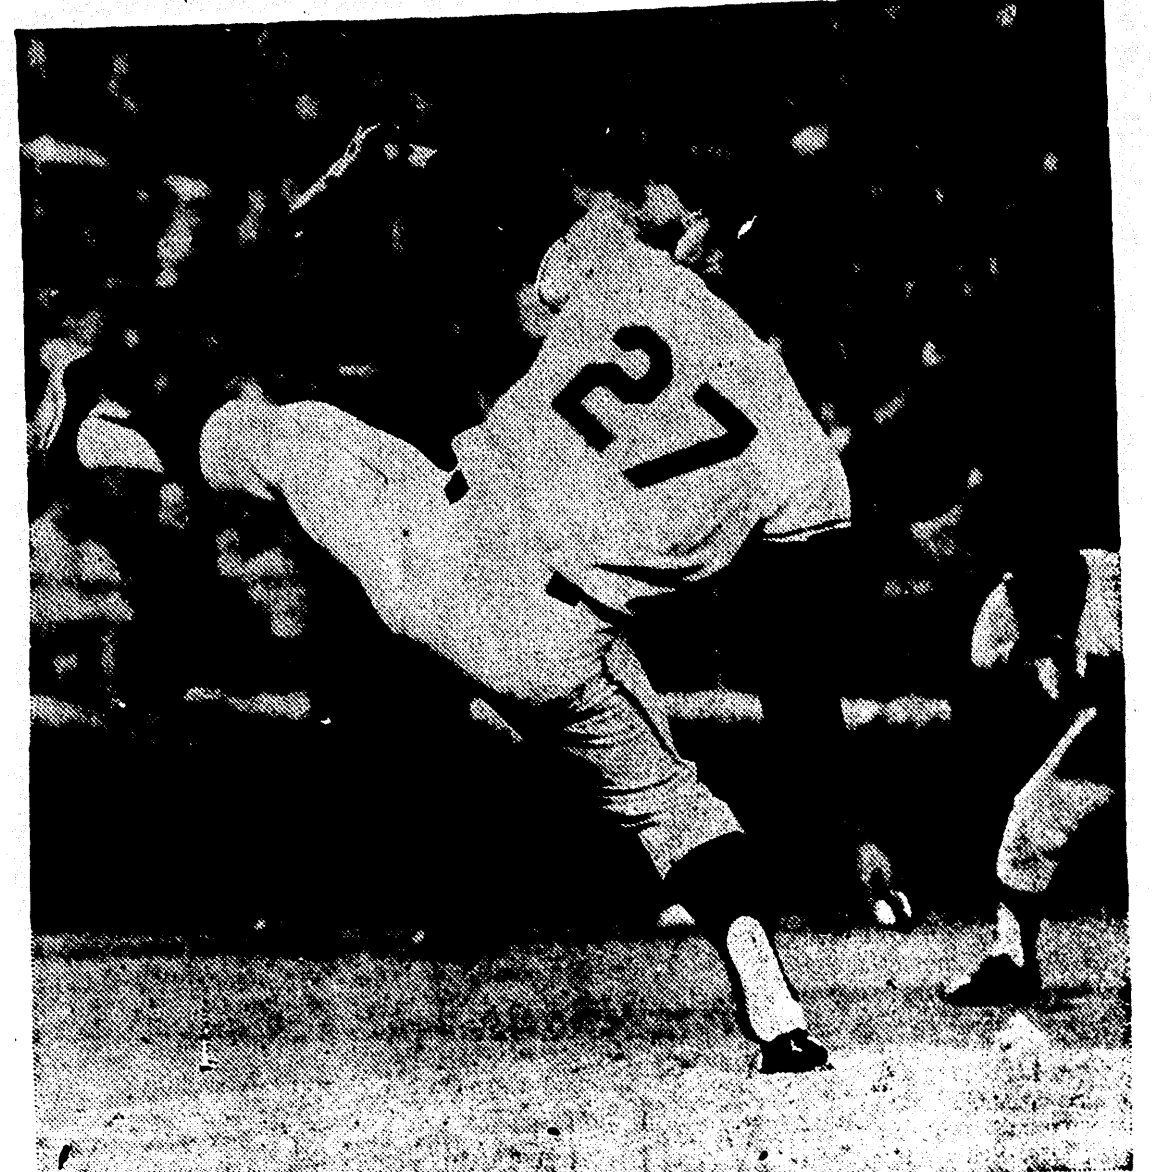

Facing Chance in the National League line-up are Roberto Clement of Pittsburgh, Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Lou Brock of St. Louis from right to left in the outfield, Atlanta's Joe Torre catching, Orlando Cepeda of St. Louis at first, Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski at second and Gene Alley at short and Rich Allen of Philadelphia at third.

Strangely enough, the only sympathy those National starters might receive in going against Chance will come from Freehan, the AL catcher.

"I was talking to Bob Rodgers (California catcher) and Russ Nixon (Minnesota catcher), and from what they said I guess it will be an experience catching Chance," Freehan said Monday at a news conference attended by about 20 of the 50 players.

"They told me I'll have to be on my toes when he's pitching. He'll probably be the toughest man on our staff to catch. He has such a live ball it doesn't do the same thing twice in a row."

About 46,000 were expected to watch him pitch this game which will be televised nationally (NBC) starting at 6:15 p. m., (Escanaba time).

JUAN MARICHAL, San Francisco's high-kicking righthander, displays the form he will use in today's start against the American League All-Star team in the annual classic at Anaheim.

Armless Girl Playing Golf

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — After six months of playing golf, Ann Morissey, 14, can drive a ball almost 100 yards. Her best score is 71 for nine holes. Ann was born without arms.

Watching her dad, Al Morissey, hack his way around the course one day, Ann remarked that the game didn't look too tough.

Ann's only club, a wood obtained by club pro Al Patterson from a manufacturer, is 56 inches long—13 inches longer than a regular shaft.

The club is braced under Ann's left armpit and strapped to her artificial left arm. She grips the club with the hooks she calls "my hands."

Morissey and Ann play nine holes three days a week. Ann has parred both of the par 3 holes but not the longer ones.

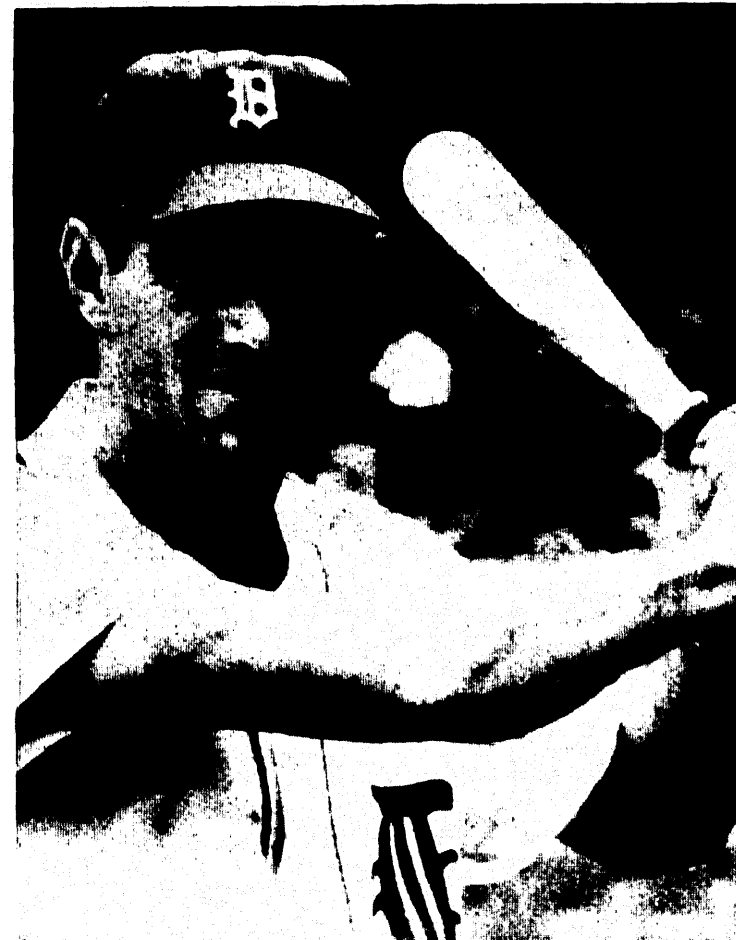

"I want to get where I can be respectable on the course," Ann says. "I feel that I can then serve as a sort of inspiration to other handicapped people and help them in some way."

Patterson is arranging for Ann to get other clubs.

Berry Wins

SAGINAW (AP)—Art Berry, assistant pro at the Pine Valley Country Club in Orchard Lake, fired a 73-73-146 Monday to capture the state assistant pro golf tournament.

Coach Danny Litwhiler's Michigan State baseball team had an 8-10 Big Ten record this spring.

Dick McAuliffe

Tigers' McAuliffe Is Hard To Please

DETROIT (AP) — Dick McAuliffe is a hard man to please.

The slim, dark Detroit Tiger has made the All-Star team three years in a row—twice as a shortstop and this year as a second baseman—is hitting around the respectable .250 mark and is near or at the top of the Tiger lists in home runs and RBI. He has 16 homers for the lead and has knocked in 38 runs.

His slugging and fielding have kept the Tigers in the thick of the fight for the American League pennant.

But he said, "I'm not satisfied. I'd like to hit better for average and I know I can play better defense."

Manager Mayo Smith said that one of the brightest spots in spring training was the way McAuliffe made the difficult shift from shortstop to second base.

Smith found no reason to change his mind as the season wore on. "He's doing real good," he said of McAuliffe earlier this week. "But," he added with a grin, "if he's not playing up to his expectations, then he's not playing up to mine."

McAuliffe, playing with "jammed fingers once in a while," leads the Tigers in errors with 16. But he's also turned in some shots, that would have been hits in most infields, into outs.

"I kind of like it," he grinned when asked about making the All-Star team three years in a row. "It's really something to play in that game."

"I really play more alert than normal. It's only one game and it's do or die," he said. Someone pointed out that it would be hard for McAuliffe to play harder than he does normally.

"Well," McAuliffe responded, "I'm sort of tense. It's hard to describe, but you can feel that it's the All-Star game."

Injuries and hitting slumps have forced Smith to move McAuliffe back to shortstop at times this season.

"I don't think shifting has bothered me," McAuliffe said, "except for the throwing. When I play shortstop I can get the ball over there on the longer throw all right, though."

Columbus Scalps Richmond Again

By The Associated Press

The Richmond Braves soon might be in dire need of a team topee if they continue getting scalped by their International League opponents.

The Columbus Jets administered the razor at Parker Field Monday night, giving the Braves a 9-7 clipping on a three-run homer by pinchhitter Jesse Conder. The victory completed the Jets' sweep of a four-game series.

In other IL play, Syracuse trounced Buffalo 3-0, Toronto split a doubleheader with Rochester, winning the opener 5-0 and dropping the nightcap 6-2, and Jacksonville ran into the same problem with Toledo, besting the Mud Hens 8-3 and losing the second game 5-3.

Pitcher Earl Wilson of the Detroit Tigers sometimes punches hits. He sometimes hits home runs, too.

Greens Carry Key To Open

HOYLAKE, England (AP) —

The best golfers in the world took another look today at only one club in their bag — the putter.

Steaming sun and only gentle breeze off the Dee Estuary and the Irish Sea scorched out the 6,995 yard, par 72 Hoylake course, and the field of 130 started to realize that the 1967 British Open Championship would be won on the greens.

Jack Nicklaus, the 27-year-old Columbus, Ohio, holder of both the British and American Open titles, carried five putters with him Monday in practice sessions.

That put his bag at about 18 clubs, four over the limit, but he contended he knew what he was doing. He tinkered around on greens, now lightning fast in spots, dangerous in others because good turf can at times turn out to be heavy in stretches.

Roberto De Vicenzo, the 48-year-old Argentinian whose record for consistency in the British Open can hardly be challenged over the past decade, spent eight solid hours doing only one thing — putting.

Doug Sanders, of Ojai, Calif., worked on his putting as well. He is rated at 10 to 1. Nicklaus at 11 to 4 is the clear cut favorite for the championship which is played over 72 holes from Wednesday through Saturday.

Bankers Edge Mead 5-3 In Babe Ruth Tilt

The Bankers erupted for four hits and four runs in the first inning Monday and went on to post a 5-3 victory over Mead in the only Babe Ruth League game scheduled this week.

League officials announced today that all league games for the rest of the week have been postponed to allow the All-Star team which won the Upper Peninsula championship to practice for the State Tournament July 14-23 at Harper Woods.

Anyone interested in helping to finance the Escanaba All-Stars trip to Harper Woods may send contributions to Paul Vardigan, league treasurer, or to Joe Hebert, All-Star manager.

For the Bankers Monday, Bob Stacey scattered seven hits and struck out 10 in gaining the victory. Tom Kangas was touched for seven hits from the Mead mound.

Heavyweight Tournament Scheduled For Home TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Fight

fans throughout the nation will get a break out of the eight-man heavyweight elimination tournament and other fights coming up among the big boys. The price is right. It will be free for most everyone.

By signing Floyd Patterson, the former two-time heavyweight king, for the World Boxing Association-approved tourney, Monday, Sports Action, Inc., lined up eight of the 10 top men in the WBA's rankings.

The only exceptions are unbeaten Joe Frazier of Philadelphia and 10th ranked George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion from Toronto, who will battle in a 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden July 19. That fight is not part of the tournament, since Frazier prefers to make one match at a time.

But it will be telecast into homes by MSG-RKO General Presentations.

The four quarter-finals, the semifinals and the final of the elimination tourney to determine a successor to defrocked Cassius Clay, will be telecast nationally into your home by ABC-TV.

New York will be blacked out of the Frazier-Chuvalo telecast and sites of the tournament bouts also won't get the live telecasts.

ABC-TV will show the quarter-finals and semifinals on the Wide World of Sports program on Saturdays, starting about 5 p.m., Eastern time. The final, at the Houston Astrodome, in January or February of 1968, will be shown on prime evening time over ABC.

Patterson, ranked 6th by the WBA and a key man in the tourney, probably will meet 7th ranked Jerry Quarry of Los Angeles in a return bout at either Los Angeles or Oakland, Calif., on Oct. 28. They fought to an exciting draw a month ago in Los Angeles.

If Quarry doesn't agree to terms, Mexico's Manuel Ramos may replace him.

The other three quarter-finals were set up previously.

The tourney kicks off with the Aug. 5 doubleheader at the Astrodome matching Ernie Terrell, No. 4, Chicago, against Thad Spencer, No. 5, San Francisco, and Jimmy Ellis, No. 6, Louisville, Ky., vs. Louis Martin, No. 9, Philadelphia.

Then, on Sept. 16, at Offenbach Stadium, near Frankfurt, Germany, Karl Mildenberger, No. 1 and the European champion from Germany, will meet Oscar Bonavena, No. 3 of Argentina. This will be teamed to the United States via the Early Bird Satellite.

Highland Hosts Senior Tourney

The Highland Golf Club will hold the annual Upper Peninsula Senior golf tournament Saturday, July 29.

Play is scheduled for five flights according to the following age groups: 50 to 54; 55 to 59; 60 to 64; 65 to 69, and 70 and over.

Deadline for reservations is Wednesday, July 26. The $4 entry fee includes the evening banquet at 6 o'clock.

The tournament committee announced that play will be either 18 or 9 holes as entrants prefer. Tee times will be 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. with shotgun starts.

Harold Lucas Rejoins Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — One of the last of pro football's bonus-war babies, Harold Lucas, agreed Monday to rejoin the St. Louis Cardinals, the team he walked out on last year.

The ex-Michigan State tackle spurned a reported five-year $200,000 bonus contract last season when Coach Charley Winner ordered the 300-pound Lucas to lose about 25 pounds at the National Football League's summer camp.

Lucas was the Cardinals' second draft choice in the 1966 college draft, the last draft in which the National and American leagues competed for the same talent.

TOPPING THE LIST of some 49 rookies and free agents who reported to the Detroit Lions Monday were Mel Farr (24), former UCLA star, Nick Eddy of Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff (40), former Tennessee star. All three will work out briefly with the Lions, then head for Chicago for the College All-Stars training camp. (AP Wirephoto)

Buntin Fails Physical:

Rookies Enter Lions Den

DETROIT (AP) — The Lion

cubs start exploring the den today.

After Monday's physical examinations, which three of the 43 Detroit Lions rookie prospects failed, Head Coach Joe Schmidt took a first look at the pack in an intensive hour-long drill.

Monday's exercise was considered a light workout, compared with the two sessions a day beginning today.

Even so, one rookie muttered on the way to the showers, "Man, these pro teams sure like to run. If they call this a light workout, I hate to think what's in store for us when regular practice starts."

And that's why three of them—including former University of Michigan All-America basketball player Bill Buntin—failed their physicals.

The 27-year-old Buntin, taking a crack at football, was dropped because of a knee injury sud-dered playing recreation basketball after he was cut from the Detroit Pistons.

Doctors at Henry Ford Hospital told the club that Buntin could suffer permanent damage if the leg is injured again.

The Lions' No. 7 draft choice, Ted Tuinstra, a tackle from Iowa State, failed because his foot was severely cut in a motorcycle accident several weeks ago.

A club official said the 287-pound Tuinstra must stay off his feet for another six or seven weeks but he may be carried on the injured reserve list.

The third rookie failing his physical was Rodney Brooks, a linebacker from the University of Massachusetts. He is sidelined with a knee injury.

Schmidt and his coaching staff had an opportunity to observe three top prospects fresh from Friday's Coaches All-Star game. Notre Dame's Nick Eddy, UCLA's Mel Farr and Tennessee's Paul Naumoff will not be around long, however. All three must report Thursday to the College All-Star camp to prepare for the Aug. 4 game with the world champion Green Bay Packers.

Shippers Assured Seaway Will Not Be Shut Down

DETROIT (AP) — The St. Lawrence Seaway will continue operations and there is no danger of any shutdown because of damage to the $21 million Eisenhower Lock, the U.S. seaway boss said Monday.

Joseph H. McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., made the statement in what he called an effort to reassure shippers who became alarmed over his congressional testimony.

In a statement released by his office McCann said he was only speaking speculatively when he told a House appropriations subcommittee in Washington that failure to repair the lock would force an indefinite closing of the 2342-mile waterway linking the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Ocean.

The repairs program already has been laid out, McCann said. He said the first phase of a $13 million five-year repair job is expected to start in December after the Seaway closes for the winter. Contracts are expected to be let in September with $3.5 million to be spent this year, McCann said.

Income Levy Will Be Aired July 31

LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents will have a chance to sound off later this month on the new state income tax.

The House Committee on Revision and Amendment of the Constitution plans a day of hearings on the tax, lotteries and sweepstakes, judicial appointments and ballot designations.

The meetings will open at 10 a.m., July 31, in the Supreme Court chamber of the State Capitol.
